Headteacher’s Update

Dear parents and carers

It’s been another busy half term at Fir Vale School! You will have noticed our push on punctuality and uniform recently - thank you for supporting us as we continue to tighten up in these areas. Staff in the community (and free bagels!) seem to be making a difference to getting students in on time.

At our Parent Forum earlier this month, parents said they wanted to be more informed about homework and wanted to know more about what their children are studying day to day. In response to this we have set up a new What is my child studying? section on the school website and What homework does my child have this half term? These pages will be live on Friday 7th June. The other issue parents have raised is wanting more parents’ evenings earlier in the academic year. The calendar for 2019/2020 will be published soon with more opportunities to discuss your child’s progress and you will receive a reminder card with these dates on before the 1st September.

Our pupils continue to inspire me with their desire to make a difference in the world. Our job is to help them make these dreams a reality.

I look forward to seeing you all soon,

Rachel Smith, Headteacher, Fir Vale School
